Matti Bench

The Matti Bench is a modern take on mid-century Danish design. Previously limited to unsustainable teaks and traditional shapes, this shape is now available in environmentally friendly Ash wood crafted into a solid frame that supports the user effortlessly. The stunningly tapered legs ground a rounded base topped with a tweed cushion that forms a sophisticated seating solution for you and a loved one. Place the Matti Bench in any room, from a lobby to the base of a bed, to finish off an interior with contemporary sophistication.
