Executive Armchair - Steel Legs

The Executive Armchair is a uniquely organic dining room or office chair designed to conform to the human body for maximum comfort. This modern and ergonomic design was inspired by classic Finnish and American architecture, offering beauty and functional support for the everyday home. Crafted and perfected over the years with a fiberglass shell and densely soft foam cushioning, the chair's structural mastery is completed with a fully upholstered back-to-armrest support positioned at just the right height. This sleek metal base version features polished stainless steel legs and flat-base chrome floor glides. The Executive chair is also available as a side chair or with solid wood legs.
