

Hugo Sectional - Leather

This head turning sectional blends traditional style and comfort with modern industrial technique. A classic backrest is replaced with a myriad of free-floating feather filled cushions, allowing rearrangement to your own satisfaction. Even more inviting is the generous width of the chaise and depth of the seat. This spacious design creates ample room to move positions from left to right, or relax comfortably with your partner and pet. The delicate but strong supportive legs create the illusion of floating. This leather has natural color and marking variations that can vary, making each piece of furniture unique. The soft surface will scuff and a beautiful vintage patina will develop with use.
